Emersonians Debate Student Council

After heated discussion on a series of resolutions submitted by the a committee headed by Kathryn Ebersole, the Emerson-Literary Society last Wednesday opened a move to back a student council for B. G. S. C.

The preamble of seven paragraphs was passed with little debate, as was the first of the resolutions. But differences of opinion arose over the second resolution which outlined the powers to be recommended for the council.

Time failing, the discussion of this and the remaining three resolutions was postponed until the next meeting on April 3, when the whole question will be finally settled. A large turn-out is expected because of the interest that has developed around this subject.

BAND CONCERT WILL BRING MANY BANDS TO COLLEGE CAMPUS

Four hundred and fifty musicians from the Northwestern District will be here on April 5 for the sectional preliminary band contest. This contest is a part of the new program sponsored by the Ohio Music Education Association of which Mr. McEwen is president.

Prof. Church is in charge of the Bowling Green meet. Lima Central, Lima South, and Fremont have entered bands in the class A division and Bluffton, Bowling Green, Wapakoneta, Fostoria, and Perrysburg are in the class B band contest. Class B orchestras which have been scheduled are from Bluffton, Fostoria, and Perrysburg. Judges for the contest are Eugene Weigel, director of band and orchestra at Ohio State, Don Morrison, of the Conservatory of Music at Oberlin, Louis Pete, Instrumental Director of Ashland high school.

The two winning bands and orchestras in each class will go to the state finals in Columbus, April 26 and 27.

Merry Minstrels "Maken" Melody

The Five Brothers gave a loose to mirth last Friday night in the form of a minstrel show and a radio program of songs, jokes, dances, and instrumental solos. A large variety of talent was given vent by this lively entertainment. Many people attended to applaud the entertainers.

Dr. Slater greeted the audience and introduced the minstrel show in which Prof. Powell was the interlocutor and John Hartman, Richard Wallace, James Greetham, Walter Slauter, Dan Cornwall, and Audrey Stevenson were posing as end men. Many jokes were supplied during the musical numbers. Howard Haise beautifulized the song "When It's June in January". "Dark Town Strutter's Ball" was sung by some burnt cork which Dan Cornwall was behind. He also did some strutting. Jim Greetham sweetly sang "Sweet Sue" so softly. "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" was vocalized by Robert Kruse. John Hartman not only sang that "I Can't Dance", but played it on the euphonium as if he meant it. One of those rare red-headed sang about his "Diver". Walt Slauter sang "Nobody's Business" not like nobody's business. Stevenson, Hartman, Slauter and Greetham as a quartette delivered "Home on the Range" and then "Carry Me Back to old Virginny".

The inside of "B. G. U." broadcasting studio was the feature of the second part of the program. Many stars announced by the studio's first announced 'Prof. Powell, were seen as well as heard. Walter Slauter began the program with a melody by his "Rudy Vallee" orchestra. Since Bing Crosby was not procurable, Aron Unger pinchcrooned as crooning should be done. Once the understanding was that this program was to consist of an all-male cast, but soddmehow Mary, who had the lamb, escap-

B. G. Representatives Attend Hearing

Dr. H. J. Johnston, president of the Board of Trustees; Supt. F. J. Prout, Sandusky, member of the board, and Dr. Williams, along with representatives of the alumni and local representatives attended the hearing on the University bills March 26. Donald Canfield, Wood county representative, and other interested members of the General Assembly also attended. A group of graduates and former students who are now studying at Ohio State were on hand to express their loyalty to Bee Gee.

Random Thoughts

The Five Brothers really came through to earn their laurel wreath. We rank their last week's performance with the "Little World's Fair" as being examples of what the B. G. S. C. student-body is capable of doing.

We approve the thorough manner in which Emersonians are attacking the student-council issue. The results of their labors next week will have just that much more value and weight.

Why don't more students (and faculty) attempt cryptogram-solving? The messages are not nearly so hard as they seem. Break down and try this week's cipher, why don't you?

We fear that Spring has not permanently arrived. The rain as we write does not keep us from stating that it would not be wise to send home your overcoat yet.

The low grades which seem to be so prevalent this six-weeks may lead to two things. They may cause discouragement and consequently poorer work. Or these estimates may act as a spur causing us to buckle down, apply a little more steam, give her the gun, and top the term with colors flying and all hands safe.

Yes, we realize that the metaphors are badly mixed in the preceding paragraph. We just wondered if you would not ice it!

Cryptograms

Since the answers are not published, solutions to any of the ciphers may be submitted at any time. Here is the fourth of our current series:

We Beg to Remark

Three more weeks to Easter Vacation! Why, ask the faculty, do students always count the days? Well, life is X per cent memory and (100-x) percent anticipation. As much of both percentages is as pleasant as possible. Myriads of worries, large or small, pertaining to studies and life at school, are not pleasant anticipations. And while we are at school these troubles are in our minds quite often. Hence we anticipate vacation. During a long vacation, we forget these unpleasant difficulties. Hence we anticipate the renewing of our college life with more eagerness than we are willing to admit.

If the Social Science 76 Questionnaire comes into your hands, do justice with it. It won't hurt you and it might help you a good deal.

Should you hear groans of late study hours, they arise probably from the new system in Freshman Chemistry.

Thought is bound on the East by Reactionaries, on the West, by Radicals, at the north, by Physical Limitations, at the South, by Stupidity, above by Emotionalism, below by Inertia. It is a distorted sphere of variable radius composed of creative energy and cool logic. Its sun is a double-star of Truth and Right. Its velocity and gravitational powers are determined by its distance from its sun and its size. "Sic itur ad astra." Take this last literally.

Lyric Soprano Entertains

Esther Wilber Carpenter, lyric soprano, appearing this morning in a song recital is a pupil of Vernon Williams of Chicago, the son of the late H. Evan Williams, noted tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Co. She is a sister of Mrs. C. F. Reeves, who accompanied her at the piano.

To the Editor

How about it Mr. Editor?, why not publish the grade average of the rest of the classes. We have nothing to brag about, but a lot to achieve.

Kiwanis Clubs Meet Here

One hundred thirty-nine representatives from eleven Kiwanis Clubs of Northwestern Ohio were entertained on this campus March 21. Mrs. Bowan and her aids served a fine dinner to the visitors at Shatzel Hall. Afterwards they were entertained in the gymnasium by the College Band and by athletic exhibitions of the men students of the college. The college is appreciative of the opportunity to bring to the campus leading citizens whose acquaintance will be advantageous.

Andrews also handed in the solution of the first cipher of the series.

"Tourists Accommodated" Will Be Presented Again

"Tourists Accommodated" presented on March 7 in the College auditorium by the Bee Gee Players under the direction of Miss Josephine Herman was so favorably received that it is to be repeated Tuesday, April 9. It is always easy to poke the fellow who will not fight for himself.

Good Luck

Good Luck is not chance,
As many surmise,
Nor does it depend
On seers, stars and skies.

The men who succeed,
And win to the crest,
Are those of glad hearts
Who toil with great zest.

The men who complain
About their bad luck
Are victims of fear
And lacking in pluck.

If you want Good Luck
Push on with a will,
And smile while you climb
Prosperity Hill!

3-K SORORITY RUSH PARTY GAY AFFAIR

The first of the gay parties of Sorority Rush Week was given last Wednesday, March 20, by the 3-K sorority girls who entertained 13 rushees at the Cla-Zel theatre for the performance of Ruby Vallee's picture, "Sweet Music."

A delightful supper party at the Nookery followed where the sorority colors of green and white were charmingly carried out in the appointments and the menu. Favors of Talisman roses combined with sweet peas in varied colors tied with green and white ribbon bows added to the beauty of the arrangements which were enjoyed by a group of 25 girls including the 13 rushees, and the two faculty sponsors, Miss Florence Baird and Margaret Yocum.

SKOL SKROLLS

The Skol Sorority entertained their rushees Monday night with a formal dinner at the Women's Club. Attractive corsages made up of tea roses and fern were given as favors. After dinner the girls all gathered at the Sorority house, where seated at tables the rushees were entertained with a floor show. Our torch singer, Evelyn Wentz sang a few numbers, and a tap number was rendered by Florence Ernst. Sally Gerding, Yvonne Setffani, and Anadelle Short put on a skit taken from a short story of Dorothy Parkers. A trio composed of Jean Wilsey, Anadelle Short and Evelyn Wentz sang the Skol Love Song after which refreshments were served. Thus closed an enjoyable evening which made possible new friendships.

Five Sister Flashes

The Five Sisters rush party was held Thursday evening in the form of a theatre party. After hearing and seeing "Sweet Music", a party was held at the house at which bridge, music and refreshments were enjoyed.

We are certainly happy to have Marian Guernsey selected as May Queen, and congratulate each Women's League officer on her election to office.

This week-end was surely grand and glorious. The minstrels started it off with a bang. They showed a great amount of talent and work. Congratulations, Five Brothers. Also an orchid to the Delhis for their elegant formal. It was way up there along the top. We won't forget it very soon. Glad to see our president of last year, Mary Florence Mong among us. Here's wishing for many more such week-ends.

Williams Hall Jingles

Lois Egbert comes to call
'Most every day at Williams Hall;
We often see her friendly grin,
And wonder why she doesn't move in.

Margaret Stewart was here last week,
And often of her Ray did speak;
She's wearing a plain gold ring, 'tis said,
It's rumored that she too is wed.

Joyce Kilbury's in the club again,
The IHM or "I Hate Men",
Kathryn Cummins is an active member,
She's been in it since last December.

"Checker" was gone last week to debate,
To uphold the honor of Bee Gee State;
The outcome yet we do not know,
But we're sure she made a splendid show.

The Williams girls performed all right,
At the Women's Club on Wednesday night;
Four girls from Williams had something to do:
Judy and Ann and Roe and Sue.

A devoted couple, and I don't mean maybe,
Is Janet Ogborn and her new flame, 'Abie'.
Elnora and "Jonesy" are often together,
It must be the spell of the balmy spring weather.

The Scandelmonger"

Shatzel Hall News

Shatzel Hall was the scene of much activity last Thursday evening. A district meeting of the Kiwanis Club held a banquet in the dining room for about 150 members and guests. Daffodils, pussy willows, yellow and green decorations adorned the room throughout. A program followed the three course dinner served by the girls of the dormitory.

Williams Hall was host to the girls of Shatzel Hall last Thursday evening because of the Kiwanis banquet held in Shatzel Hall.

Among the guests visiting Shatzel over the week-end were: Miss May Lutz, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen, Ft. Wayne; Mrs. Barnes, Piqua; Miss Jayne Reynolds, Willard; Misses Beatrice Peters and Martha Monroe, West Unity.

We are glad to see Miss Kathleen Amos back who went home ill Tuesday.

SEVEN SISTER FLASHES

This has been a very busy week-end for us since our rush party was held Saturday afternoon. At twelve-thirty p. m. twenty-five girls and our sponsor, Miss Nielsen, gathered for a luncheon at the Woman's Club. Following the luncheon, a short impromptu program was given after which the group attended the matinee at the Cla-Zel theatre. Each of the six rushees was presented with a beautiful tea rose. We were very glad to have as our guests two of our alumnae, Lucille Windle, now teaching in Monclova and Winifred, this year a student at Ohio State.

On Sunday Mary Selva, who is also attending Ohio State, returned to the fold for a short visit.

That was a very elegant minstrel show Friday evening, Five Brothers. There is no doubt that it was just what the doctor ordered—we all enjoyed it and hope it will be an annual feature.

We hear that the Delhi formal was a grand success. Congratulations to you, too, Delhis.

Phratra Phases

The members of Phratra Sorority entertained their guests at the Nookery, Friday evening. Novelty favors were given, and the color scheme was in green and yellow, the sorority's colors.

After the girls attended the Five Brother Minstrel—and enjoyed it very much, too.

They were invited to the Phratra House for the "Hot Chocolate Dance" where they received programs in the form of a cup. Refreshments were served.

Teachers should build character and enthusiasm.

"The Marriage of Nannette" To be Given by Sr. High School

Students in the Senior High School Music Department will present "The Marriage of Nannette", a three act comic operetta, in the High School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock Thursday evening March 28. College students who attended the High School operettas presented during the last two years will remember with pleasure the splendid performance of the young people who are presented under the direction of Roy V. Hilty.

The current offering is a delightful fantastic story of the love affairs of several couples in a little French village. After a plot which is involved by many complications wedding bells are sounded for all the people who have been engaging the interest of the audience throughout the operetta.

It includes a mysterious veiled lady, a huge white bear with an over-powering tendency to mischief and a band of gypsies adding to the interest of a plot that is enhanced with such thrilling adventures as a kidnapping. Tickets for the operetta are available at the Lincoln and Dirlam drug store at 25 cents. All seats are reserved. People who have seen the dress rehearsal of the operetta are enthusiastic about the entertainment which it will provide Thursday evening. Those who attended the operettas the past two years will remember that every seat was sold on both occasions, consequently, the people in charge of this production urge everyone who wishes to see it to make a special effort to get tickets at once.

Where Do They Go From Here?

We just saw a photograph of a graduating class of girls 30 years ago. Not one of them showed that she possessed such a thing as legs. How different today! Such a picture would show every girl with her mouth as wide open as she could get it, smiling like a dentist's advertisement, and as much of her legs showing as she could possibly manage and have it pass the censor. Will the girls of 30 years from now be different? Of course. They'll be different—and in that way be the same as ever. The world changes and conditions change. Human beings really do not change at all—but they do change in what they consider the smart thing at the time. What is smart for one generation is always going to be out of date and impossible for the next. The women of 1965 may be wearing nothing at all but smiles—or they may be wearing stacks of furs. You may depend on it that they will covet whatever happens to be rare and costly. That is natural; it's the way they have always been and always will be. Women will not change, but their customs and costumes will change. So don't worry about it.

GO DUTCH—HA!

A few weeks ago there appeared an article entitled, GO DUTCH. It's author's attitude can clearly be deducted from its contents. In the first place he wants to be a ladies man and doesn't know how. He possibly is pressed for monetary existence and hasn't the backbone to go out and earn a dollar—the price of a good date.

Or perhaps he thinks that women are obligated to go with him. Quite the reverse. Who asks a girl to go to a show? It's a cinch that any girl that asks a man to go to a show isn't exactly a lady. There are certain fundamental traditions or "customs", as the author referred to, that have been set up for social conduct and these must be lived up to if we are to be looked upon as ladies and gentlemen.

He states that the engaged couples' expenses should be born by the less fair sex. Quite the reverse. Here a relationship exists between the two that is more personal. She knows his economic standing and can or at least should govern herself accordingly, since a partnership is being formed in which both parties are concerned. Even then when the gentleman has high ideals and standards he will want to assume the responsibility, remain independent so that he may maintain his self respect in the eyes of his future mate.

The author at the outside is a non-conformist, of which there are many on the campus. I would really enjoy seeing a really truly Formal Dance, that is impossible since too many think formality is disgusting. In reality it is most elevating and is the ear marks of education.

We must become educated to this sort of thing. Social life is really important. It is the man who is a conformist that is going to get ahead. When we get out into life, if we cannot conform to these "customs", our education has been a failure.

In some institutions etiquette is taught. Jobs often depend on etiquette and I think it would be a fine thing to have such instruction here.

Think it over "suppressed". Be a gentleman and take a course in sociology and understand "customs" better.

Class Work Shown Last Week at Woman's Club

A demonstration of class room work was given by Bowling Green State College students for the Woman's Club meeting, March 20. Miss Wills arranged and directed the program. Students from the following departments demonstrated their work: foreign language, home economics, commercial, biological science, English, music, physical education, and industrial arts. Exhibits of the work done was also shown. The club members received the program with much enthusiasm.

They tell us glass hats are coming so the girls can see out of both eyes.

FRATERNITIES

The Commoners

True Confessions—I'm looking at a stone wall. Nothing of interest has happened around here all week. Everyone seems sorta dead—maybe it's because attendance at the college prohibits a sufficient amount of baseball pitching. You ought to see the Wooster-Summit corner every eve after school—the Seven Sisters along with the Five Brothers help us make the place interesting. So far no windows have suffered having their face starred but a tree was uprooted in front of the house. Ask Wohlers about it. He said all he knows is that there was a crash at midnite!

Hard-boiled students—those who would laugh at the height of dejection. The more dejected the Red-headed-end-man got the more people laughed. Congratulations Five Brothers on the Minstrel Show. 'Twas a grand affair put on in a great way. Much credit is due those who attributed their time and efforts to make it a success.

Seven new Book and Motor students elected—regardless of what it may mean—we congratulate you. It is a great accomplishment.—C'est Moi.

Five Brothers News

Well the thing that we have been working on for a long time is over and we know you enjoyed it.

Red was a real success and all the boys in the show deserve a lot of credit for their faithful attendance at practices. It takes cooperation within a group to do a thing like a show and that old cooperation is sure working among the Five Brothers. Thanks Phratra for turning out in a body, we appreciate it.

The untiring efforts of three men, Dr. Slater, Prof. Powell and Walt Slauter made the show such a success. We hope to make this an annual affair.

ed on the stage (Howard Burdick must be a neophyte). Then a girl who looked like Red Stevenson ran out on the stage singing "A Thousand Times, No!" to a persuing villian who looked like John Hartman. Jim Greetham presented some of his own lyric and melody, "Margarite". Bill Jansen pawed the ivories and then accompanied Walt Slauter to "Stay As Sweet as You Are". Two hicks burned their way onto the program to sing "I Like Mountain Music" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream" as Stevenson and Greetham would sing. Whitey Wildman gave a trumpet interprelation of "Star Dust" which was really dust of the stars. Royce Hutchinson performed some fiddlings on his fiddle in a fine way. Richard "Winchell" Wallace read the latest (since the last) thru his worn and bent spectacles. Audrey Stevenson as Cab Caloway ended the program with a song.

This minstrel was directed by Walter Slauter.

What Do You Think

Who is the bully of the College, Snyder or the big man Jones? We found out when Jones took the big Snyder over.

I would like to know the boy who can't stay away from mama over a week. He has been here since last summer and has not missed a week-end from going home.

I wonder why Dr. Swanson is getting so popular here of late? Is it his Folk Dance or his Tango which is putting him over so big? I wonder how many of you know what a Tango dance really is.

Who does our big red headed boy go to Bluffton to see each week-end? She must be some gal, or Snyder would stay at B. G.

It looks like we may have a track team that is something this year. Come on boys, let's do our stuff.

I think that Bowling Green has a wonderful Freshman class. Don't you think so to?—Just Me.

1st co-ed: "Doesn't that Scottish boy ever take you to the movies now?"

2nd co-ed (bitterly): "No, I think he must have found a girl who can see pictures in the fire."

How much should an unemployed person pay for half soles and heels put on his shoes at relief headquarters? That sounds like a job for the relief experts to decide. However, the task fell on one of our cost accounting "experts", Leo Copeland, who has just finished a project for the local Emergency Relief Headquarters.

Copeland has been applying principles learned in accounting to the determination of the costs of leather going into shoe repairs for unemployed. By careful computation he found that average charges for repairs could be reduced from 25 cents to less than 15 cents and still cover the costs of materials used.

At present he is keeping their warehouse books, a task calling for careful recording of incoming goods and withdrawals.

How much does the manufacturer spend for advertising a bottle of Coca-Cola? How should you decorate your windows for greatest display value? These were some of the topics discussed at the Quill-Type meeting last Wednesday night.

You probably didn't guess it, for the advertising cost is only 1576-100,000 of 1 cent per bottle or glass. Virginia Powell won the contest of recognizing the most advertising slogans.

Papers were read by Misses Arnold and Swartz, and Mr. Bricker. Music was furnished by Misses Filiere, Harris, Daniels, and Kaiser.

Several of the faithful Quill-Type members were not present at this meeting. They were representing the Commercial department at a meeting of the Women's Club. Miss Sterling was general chairman of the Commercial program, Miss Frazier had charge of Secretarial exhibits, and Miss Curtis was in charge of the machine accounting exhibits. Mr. Doehring, president of Quill-Type demonstrated the use of the Ediphone, a machine taking the place of a stenographer.

After various demonstrations, the members of the Women's Club were allowed to listen in on a business meeting of Quill Type. Practically every point of parliamentary law was brought into use within a few minutes.

Some people destroy religious ideals, without offering anything better.

B. G. Opens Track Season Here

OBERLIN WINS MEET

The B. G. Falcons, showing unusual strength, dropped a close fought track meet Wednesday night to Oberlin in the Falcon nest. Oberlin took the last three events to make sure a 61 to 43 victory. The score stood at 41 to 40 in favor of Oberlin just before the final three events were held.

Oberlin was expecting to find an easy opponent in the Falcons and were forced to the limit to win. The Falcons, had they been training longer and had more experience, would have been the winner. The spirit of the Falcons was fine. Every man was doing his best to add points to the Falcon score. The Falcons on the basis of their showing against Oberlin will upset the dope in the conference meet at Wooster in May.

The most exciting event of the evening was the relay. The crowd showed more enthusiasm during this than at any other time during the evening. The most exciting of this event was when John Gaeth, overcame a big lead held by the second runner of Oberlin, and passed him and gave the anchor man, Daniels, who lost out in the last lap to his long legged opponent a lead. There are great possibilities for a great relay team to be found and we are betting on Coach Landis to do it.

John Hartman, the speed demon, demonstrated his ability by taking a first in the 220 yard dash and seconds in the 40 yard dash and 40 yard high hurdles, and the 40 yard low hurdles. To top off a full evening, he tied with Howard Berry of B. G. and an Oberlin man for first in the pole vault. Fine work John. Too bad for B. G. that you are graduating this year.

The Falcons only took four firsts out of twelve events but cashed in heavily on seconds and thirds.

The next meet for the Falcons will be on Saturday, March 30, when they go to Detroit to take on Wayne U in an indoor meet. We hope the Falcons will make the trip worth while by winning the meet. Follow the Falcon track team and give them your support. They have the makings of a fine team and deserve the full student body support. Are you behind them?

INTRAMURAL INDOOR BASEBALL ORGANIZED

The program for indoor baseball as a sport for every college man has been organized. Everyone is invited to participate either as a member of a house team or a fraternity team. There is a possibility that members may also play on the class teams as well as other teams. The rules of the program will be posted on bulletin boards in Men's Gym and Ad. building. The Physical Education majors—Ross Albon and Doyce Filiere—both varsity lettermen, will have complete charge of it. Entries should be in April 1st.

Football Field to be Reseeded

Men are busy regrading the athletic field for seeding. Arrangements will be made for sprinkling the field during the summer so as to insure a rapid development of the turf before next football season.
